“ Our condolences are with the Newbold family. Like most people we find comfort in talking to others but I find that turning to God's word i find more than a listening ear but someone who can do something about it. Job 14:14,15 Job asked a question and gives and answer. If a man dies can he live again and God says he will call and I shall answer and he has a yearning for the work of his hands. By going to 1 Peter 5:7 we can throw all our anxieties upon him because he cares for us. We can appreciate John 3:16 how he loved us so much that he gave his son in order everyone exercising faith can have everlasting life.
